The activity report was presented to the members together with the financial report around 10 days prior to the AGM as well as in Brøndby as printed document. 5.2 Activity Report: on-topic division FSE Disabled Fans’ Rights:

Kevin Miles übergibt das Wort an Joyce Cook, welche die Aktivitäten kurz skizzieren wird.

The following activities took place:
- Accessibility advice on the design, content and updates of the new website and various documents and publications
- Participation in various FSE Committee Meetings, including a discussion on the future of the on-topic division in November 2011
• Exchange with the FSE Fans’ Embassy Division with a ‘co-opted’ Centre for Access to Football in Europe (CAFE) representative (Eastern European Development Officer, Elena Karpukhina) to advise on the involvement of disabled fans and accessibility to the host city embassies in the Fans’ Embassy Programme at EURO2012

• Collection of ideas for potential future activities of the on-topic division and on the FSE website

• Call for network members to get involved as active contributors in the divisional activities via the FSE Newsletter in April 2011

Unfortunately, there has been no respective feedback from the membership after the calls for participation in the newsletter and on the FSE website.

Future perspective
As a next step, all fans’ groups in the FSE membership, should be approached again and encouraged to get involved. The overall objective should be to establish a working group of active and interested FSE members that would be keen to initiate or organise disabled fans rights on-topic projects together with CAFE.

However, if the establishment of a sustainable and active working group in the Disabled Fans’ Rights on-topic division still proves to be unsuccessful despite the efforts that have been taken, then the FSE Committee may choose to discuss the future of this on-topic division.

In any case, an on-going positive cooperation between FSE and CAFE will continue in the framework of EURO 2012 activities and the wider works and shared commitments of both organisations.

5.3 Financial Report

Daniela Wurbs presents the most important facts and figures from the financial report, which was presented to all members. Daniela Wurbs particularly refers to page 8 of the German financial report and page 10 of the English financial report that show in more detail how much money was spent for which areas of activities and the amount provided to FSE by UEFA. The funding provided by UEFA for the different FSE activities and how much of it was transferred to the different areas of activity for the current financial year, is detailed on the last page of the financial report which is presented to the members and available on the website.

7. Discussion about proposals for amendments to the statutes

Daniela Wurbs hands over to Christian Bieberstein, spokes person of the statutes commission, which was introduced following a resolution at the AGM in Barcelona in 2010.

Christian Bieberstein briefly explains the compilation of the working group and thanks all members for the joint work.

The submitted proposals for amendments to the statutes were published and circulated amongst all members more than 7 days prior to the AGM. On top of that, the documents were provided as printed copies to all members present at the AGM.

New wording:

4 Membership

1. Membership shall be open to all natural and legal persons and informally organised groups with a nominated FSE delegate who are primarily active in the football supporter sector in Europe, who promote the goals of the Association and who commit to and actively support the core principles of the Association. Europe is defined as the sum total of the national football associations that are members of European football’s governing body, UEFA. Countries are deemed to be all nations with a national football association.

2. Admission of members is by written application (including via e-mail or online) to the representative body appointed by the FSE committee in accordance with the constitution, which is the FSE Coordinating Team/Management.

3. Membership shall end upon the death of the member, by voluntary cancellation, by the member or informally organised group ceasing to exist as a legal person, by expulsion from the Association or by dissolution of FSE.
4. Voluntary cancellation of membership can be effected at any time with effect from the end of the financial year by submission of written notice to the FSE Committee or the management appointed by the FSE Committee.

5. Members can be expelled or prevented from joining by decision of the Board if they act in defiance of the goals and core principles of the Association or fail to meet their obligations towards the Association. An expelled member has the right of appeal to an ordinary general meeting. The decision of the meeting is final. The member shall be invited to the meeting and has the right to be heard. Appeals shall be decided by a two-thirds majority of the members present.

Question from the audience: Why no members can be accepted that are also internationally active.

Daniela Wurbs: the scope of activities of FSE is focussed on Europe and in view of the different thematic priorities on the different continents and the limited resources, it is not possible to take up all these different topics and to represent them credibly. The formal restriction of the membership to Europe, however, doesn’t mean that there can be no cooperation in partnership with other fans’ organisations active beyond Europe at all.

§ 8 Voting System

1. All properly admitted members present who have reached the age of 14 years, have the right to vote at the AGM. The weight of each vote depends primarily on the geographic sphere of activities of the respective members.

   a. With natural persons, the vote is restricted to one vote per member

   b. Legal entities, informally organized fans’ groups and fan-related organisations and initiatives which are primarily active at local level, should be represented by an appointed delegate in the AGM, or a substitute, if the delegate appointed is prevented for any reason. The vote for delegates of locally active members is restricted to three votes per member at the AGM.

   c. Legal entities, informally organized fans’ groups and fan-related organisations and initiatives which are primarily active as fans / member umbrella organisations at local level, should be represented by an appointed delegate in the AGM, or a substitute, if the delegate appointed is prevented for any reason. Fans’/member umbrella organisations are defind as a union of legal entities, informally organized fans’ groups and fan-related organisations and initiatives which are primarily active at local level. The vote for delegates of locally active fans’ umbrella members is restricted to four votes per member at the AGM.

   d. Legal entities, informally organized fans’ federations and fan-related organisations and initiatives which are primarily active at national/cross-European level, should be represented by an appointed delegate in the AGM, or a substitute if the delegate appointed is prevented for any reason. The vote for delegates of members active at national level is restricted to 10 votes per member at the AGM.

The FSE-Coordination determines the final classification of each member by taking the statements made in the membership application form into account.

2. Delegates of local, national/cross-European members, or their substitutes, can represent at maxium one national/cross-European and one locally active member each as delegates with voting rights at the AGM of FSE.

Statement Christian Bieberstein: This proposal for an amendment to the statutes is based on a proposal from a member of the Annual General Meeting 2010 in Barcelona. With the amendment, the existence of local fan club umbrella organizations should be considered, as they exist in Germany, for instance. As opposed to a small local fan club of 5-10 people, these fan club umbrella organizations represent the interests of many organized supporters overall and this should be reflected by the voting system.

Statement Daniela Wurbs: Raises concerns based on the fact that for historical and structural reasons, fan club umbrella organisations do not exist everywhere, but mainly in Germany. Apart from that, it is very difficult to define and check whether and when a fan club also represents a fan club umbrella organization. Hence, membership administration would be significantly more difficult and the amendment can result in a structural disadvantage for the voting power of those countries, where such umbrella organizations do not exist. Furthermore, the risk for manipulation is increased with the difficulties with membership checks and definitions of membership types.

Question from a member: asks the Committee whether this amendment to the statutes was discussed in the Committee before the AGM?

Statement Kevin Miles: The amendment was presented and it was discussed, but there was no joint position but rather a tendency to reject this amendment.

Statement Daniela Wurbs: Apart from that, this issue is decisive for the FSE membership as a whole, so that the Committee decided that the AGM should be making the final decision on this.
§8 Vote: The proposed amendment to § 8 of the statutes was rejected with a majority

Statement members: It is requested to discuss this issue and the amendment to the statutes once again at the next AGM because the issue is too complex and the members find it difficult to make a decision on the basis of the arguments presented.

This was passed on to the Committee and the Statutes Commission.

8. Elections for the FSE Committee 2010/2011

Daniela Wurbs once again explains the election procedure and the overall compilation of the Committee. Daniela Wurbs will have a permanent seat in this committee as the FSE Coordinator according to the statutes, Mr Michael Gabriel (KOS, Germany) as appointed director of the on-topic division Fans’ Embassies and Ms Joyce Cook as director of the newly founded on-topic division Disabled Fans’ Rights. Provided that the respective proposals for amendments to the statutes will be adopted, eight further seats will be allocated to elected members.

The Chairman explains that the 11 candidates running for election in total for these eight seats will introduce themselves in max 5 minutes speeches per candidate. Then the election procedure will be decided. The new candidates are asked to the podium in alphabetical order of their countries of origin, followed by the current Committee members standing for re-election to the Committee whose order was decided by draw.

Afterwards, Daniela Wurbs explains the election procedure. There are two possibilities: either an open vote for each candidate, or a secret ballot on the prepared voting papers, which would be to be thrown into ballot boxes. The secret ballot would spare a lot of time to all those present, since otherwise the voting papers would immediately have to be completely counted after the vote for each candidate.

Therefore, she makes the proposal for the voting, the elections to take place as a secret ballot with voting papers.

10. Kevin Miles, Football Supporters Federation, England
    - Has been a member of the FSE Committee and thanks everyone for electing him in Barcelona without being able to be present. He’s got the experience and the knowledge and wants to further contribute this to the work of FSE, in particular in the work with police.

The chair explains the election and counting procedure. The counting of the votes will be carried out by the FSE members Björn Martens, Lasse Bauer and Loukas Anastasiadis, because in particular Loukas and Björn have vast experiences with this in their home countries and none of them originates from the home countries of any of the countries of the candidates. 9. Other Whilst votes were counted, the agenda item „Other“ was discussed, after feedback and the respective agreement of the members present. Daniela Wurbs asked all members to come on stage, who had resolutions to present.
Resolution from the Football Supporters Federation from England and Wales

Steve Powell submits a resolution on behalf of the nationally active member FSF from England and Wales, according to which the new Committee of FSE should deal with priority with the lack of transparency and democratic accountability inside the international football governing body FIFA, because this raises not only ethical issues but there are also repeated discussions about alleged corruption and bribery.

FSE should fight for transparent governance at FIFA together with UEFA.

In concrete terms, he asks the AGM of FSE to adopt the following statement:

FSE notes the continued financial and corruption scandals at the highest levels of FIFA.

We believe:

1) That the game’s world governing body must adopt procedures and policies of transparency and accountability that will withstand the most searching examination;
2) That all members of the FIFA executive committee and senior staff must place their personal financial affairs in the public domain to avoid any actual or perceived corrupt gain;
3) That money raised by FIFA through broadcasting and sponsorship should and must be used to build our game in those nations that have the least resources;
4) That all future votes for host nation rights to the World Cup must be open and recorded and be judged against pre-determined objective criteria;
5) That an international sports anti-corruption and match-fixing agency similar in power and scope to the World Anti-Doping Agency with powers and resources to independently investigate allegations of corruption and/or ethics breaches by international sporting governing bodies such as FIFA.

FSE calls on FIFA’s broadcasting partners and sponsors to maintain the pressure for essential reforms.

The new Committee of FSE should make efforts to realise this call and should report about progress made on the issue at the European Football Fans’ Congress 2012.

VOTE: the resolution of the FSE on the call for the FSE Committee to stand up for greater transparency and democracy at the world football association FIFA was adopted with a majority.
